

U.S. DEMOUNCES SENTENCING OF PRISONERS

About Town

And Country
By TIMOTHY T.

THANKSGIVING DAY: Most business pauses tomorrow for Thanksgiving Day and this column again goes to the Weekly Bulletin of the Harrisburg Public Schools for material fitting the occasion.

The selection in the Bulletin is titled "The Day of Thanks," and is a reprint of an editorial that appeared in the New York Times, quite a newspaper.

Here is the Thanksgiving essay for today:

"The whole concept of Thanksgiving Day is deeply woven into the fabric of our lives. It follows familiar patterns of behavior. It has its own symbols. To each of us it has its own group of remembrances, its own direction that probably stems from childhood. It is, indeed, so much a part of us that we may risk taking much of it for granted. We do well, therefore, to give pause and to reflect on the basis for our feelings of gratitude.

"There is always a quick impulse to give this attitude of thankfulness a negative aspect. Especially in troubled times such as these it is so easy to be thankful that things are no worse than they are. We can be thankful we are not ill, that we are not maimed, that we are not hungry, that we are not cold.

"This, however, is the negative approach to what should be a positive expression of emotion and faith. What really matters should not be expressed merely in terms of what is not. It should be couched in thankfulness for those things that are. It is needful, rather, that we realize that good is an affirmative, not merely a comparative. We have reason to give thanks that we can exercise the virtues of courage, diligence and generosity and that our very good fortune can make them of value to others.

"This attitude, surely, should give more meaning to what must rightfully be the largest part of giving thanks. We cannot be truly grateful unless we are also compassionate. We cannot enjoy the good things that are ours unless we are earnestly dedicated to sharing those good things with others.

"We can give thanks, therefore, that we have the opportunity to help the large mission that is before us. We are not ill; we are not maimed; we are not hungry; we are not cold; we can help to provide clothing and shelter.

"In this spirit we can make Thanksgiving Day more than a 'holiday.' It can be a day of faith and achievement."

PMW Local 165
Aids Factory Fund

Another substantial contribution from local organized labor to the Jaycee factory fund has been received, it was announced today by Bob Davenport, chairman of the fund drive committee.

A check in the amount of $108 was turned in to the Jaycees from Local Union No. 165, P. M. W. of A. (Sahara No. 5), and the contribution helps greatly toward bringing the drive to a successful conclusion.

It is hoped by all the Jaycees that the factory fund drive quota can be met soon, since the new payroll which will result from these efforts will make a pleasant "Christmas Gift" to Harrisburg and the area from the Jaycees.

Stores, Businesses
To Close for Holiday;
Schools Rest of Week

Tomorrow is Thanksgiving Day, a holiday, and businesses and offices that close on holidays will be closed for the occasion.

Schools will continue closed through the rest of the week and some state offices will remain closed on Friday, including the Illinois Employment Service and the Illinois Public Aid Commission offices.

There will be no issue of The Daily Register Thursday.

Colonel Jarvis Faces National Guard Charges

Failed to Report
For Summer Training;
Inquiry is Rare

SPRINGFIELD (UP) — An impending inquiry into charges a top Illinois National Guard officer disobeyed orders was termed today a "rare" procedure not used by the Guard in the past 20 years.

Col. Richard L. Jarvis, Cairo, commander of the 130th Infantry Regiment of the 33rd Division, faces charges of "disobedience of orders" by failing to report for summer training this year.

Brig. Gen. Clifford L. Hodgkin, Peoria, the division commander who filed the charge against Jarvis, conceded the hearing was "rare." Another Guard source said there hadn't been a similar inquiry in two decades.

Hodgkin said Jarvis, a veteran of 24 years in the guard, had asked to be excused from training this year because he needed to devote his time to a southern Illinois business venture he recently started.

Failed to Report
"He was turned down," Hodgkin said at his Peoria office today. "He just failed to report."

Hodgkin said a five-man board of inquiry, headed by Brig. Gen. Otto Kener Jr., Chicago, will meet in Chicago Saturday to hear the case. Jarvis is expected to attend, the division commander said.

If the board should find the charge justified, Hodgkin said, it could levy any of several penalties. He said these could include a fine, or removal from his post.

Jarvis was one of several officers who attacked the merger of the 33rd and 44th Illinois Guard divisions into a "new" 33rd early this year. He charged the administration was making the guard a "political football."

Jarvis announced his resignation from the Guard last Jan. 9. However, Hodgkin said Jarvis later withdrew it and continued to hold his command of the 130th.

Stocks Soar Above Record Level of 1929

NEW YORK (UP) — Industrial stocks stood today at a new all time high—a notch above the record prices of the boom of 1929.

The industrial shares soared Tuesday on a 3,690,000 share trading bonanza that lifted many individual stocks to record highs above the 1929 peak.

It was the first time since Sept. 3, 1929, that the industrial average rose above 381.17. This time the average was 382.74 in a market far more stable than the boom before the bust of 1929.

The new top came on a steady climb that lifted the industrial average 28.78 points since the election and 127.25 points since Sept. 14, 1953.

Industrial averages alone commanded the record prices. Railroad averages held 45 per cent below the 1929 records and utility averages were 138 per cent below their previous high point.

Investors today took a matter of fact attitude toward the new highs. The reaction was in sharp contrast to 1929 when speculators greeted the market spurt with wild cheers. But the wild cheers of the 20s were choked soon in the biggest drop in stock market history.

Wall Street experts agreed that the 1954 market was built on stable factors. They saw no indications of a crack in prices in the foreseeable future.

The bullish element believes the rise may be only the beginning. Some experts claimed industrial stocks in the future would climb well above the 400 level. The ultra-optimistic claimed the average would soar to 600 soon.

Martin and Lewis
Ask Families to Mail Wishes

HOLLYWOOD (UP) — Comedians Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis appealed to every American family today to mail them the wishbone from its Thanksgiving turkey as a gesture of charity.

The comedy team said the bones, which should be cleaned, boiled and mailed to them at NBC, Hollywood, would be sold to a company which will grind them up for chicken feed.

"The proceeds will be given to the Muscular Dystrophy Fund," they said.

Martin and Lewis are national chairmen of the current campaign to help 200,000 children stricken with the nerve disease.

LUCIANO IN ITALY—Deadpan Charles (Lucky) Luciano, left, one-time vice lord in New York, leaves police court at Naples, Italy, after receiving a two-year "sentence" of house arrest because he was judged "socially dangerous." Luciano was ordered to remain indoors after dark, to avoid public places and to remain within a 16-mile radius of the city. Luciano, accused by the U. S. authorities of heading an Italian-American narcotics ring, protested the move, maintaining he is a "good citizen." (NEA Telephoto)

Foster Explains Need for Higher Tax Rate for High School in Kiwanis Address

Why a higher tax rate is needed to provide the necessary funds for operating the Harrisburg Township high school without running further in debt and to continue offering the same high quality education for its students was explained to members of the Kiwanis club last night at the Masonic temple by Raymond L. Foster, principal of the school.

The HTHS board of education is requesting an increase of from 50 cents per $100 valuation to 71 cents per $100 valuation which will be voted upon in the school district on Dec. 4.

Mr. Foster stated the yield to the school from the 50c rate is about $135,000 per year and the salaries alone total about $125,000 per year which does not leave enough to provide the other operating costs such as transportation, classroom supplies and equipment, lights, fuel, janitor's supplies and other items. This is also in spite of the fact that the average annual salary paid to the teachers in this district is $520.03 below the average for the state.

Mr. Foster stated the school has been operating at a loss for about five years. Three things can be done, he said. One is to continue running in debt; two to curtail services, or the third is to increase the tax rate.

The high school tax rate here of 50 cents per $100 valuation is compared to other schools in the area, most of whom have already voted an increase. They are as follows:

Eldorado 69c; Equality 96c; Carrier Mills 61c; Shawneetown 96c; Rosiclare 65c; Golconda 54c; Vienna 75c; Metropolis 75c; Anna 75c; Carbondale 78c; Murphysboro 75c; Carversville 75c; Herrin 1.00; West Frankfort 80c; Benton 65c; Du Quoin 72c; Valer 1.00; Zeigler 1.00; Christopher 75c; Elkville 1.00.

At present petitions are being circulated to request Gov. Stratton to see that the state will equalize funds to all school districts. A petition was passed among members.

Cost of Living Shows Decline

WASHINGTON (UP) — The cost of living declined in October to the lowest level since June, 1953.

The decline cost 1,300,000 auto, aircraft, and farm equipment workers a penny an hour in pay, the government reported today.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics said that falling food prices brought its index of consumer prices down two-tenths of 1 per cent between September and October, to 114.5 per cent of average 1947-49 prices.

This was the third straight month of decline.

It put the index eight-tenths of 1 per cent below the record high of October, 1953, and one-tenth of 1 per cent below the previous 1954 low set in April.

The cut in pay for the 1,300,000 workers, which becomes effective in the first pay day in December, wipes out all the increases that the workers gained over the past year through their cost of living escalator clauses in wage contracts.

The pay cut also comes at a time when the CIO United Auto Workers are preparing to negotiate 1955 wage increase demands.

Marcellus Pemberton, Galatia Resident, Dies At Veterans Hospital

Marcellus Pemberton of Galatia died this morning at the Veterans hospital in Marion.

His body was taken to the Courtney funeral home at Galatia this morning, and funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Ex-Gov't Worker Dies of Injuries In Prison Beating

W. W. Remington, Economist, 37, Was Sentenced for Perjury

LEWISBURG, Pa. (UP) — William Walter Remington, former Commerce Department employee sentenced to federal prison for perjury in a Soviet spy case, died today from injuries suffered when he was beaten in a prison dormitory Monday.

Acting Warden Fred Wilkinson said that Remington died at 7:30 a. m. It was reported the 37-year-old economist was in a coma most of the time since he was attacked.

Wilkinson revealed that Remington underwent an operation by "an outside surgical consultant" Tuesday afternoon, 30 hours after he was found in his prison dormitory beaten on the head and face.

The operation lasted two hours and was to remove bone fragments, it was reported.

Surgeons said the "only thing in his favor was his age" after the operation was completed. Remington, who had lost considerable blood, underwent a series of transfusions, it was reported from the Federal Penitentiary hospital.

Wilkinson said the FBI and prison officials were continuing the investigation of the fatal beating and added "all information will be presented to the U. S. attorney."

Remington was found Monday in a dazed condition on a second floor stairway landing below his third floor dormitory quarters. Authorities believe he was beaten with a piece of brick wrapped in a prison issue sock.

A former $10,000 a year Commerce Department economist, he was serving a three-year term for perjury in connection with charges of lying when he denied giving secret classified information to a Soviet spy courier and when he denied knowledge of the existence of a Young Communist League at Dartmouth College while he attended school there.

C. E. Bishop, 86, Dies at Raleigh

Charles Edward Bishop, 86, life long resident of the Raleigh community, died last night at 11:50 at his home following an illness of six years. He had been bedfast two years prior to his death.

He was a member of the Raleigh Baptist church and the Masonic lodge.

In September of 1895 he married Bertha Carlisle who survives along with five sons, Joseph, Barney and Phillip, all of Raleigh, Paul of Falls Church, Va., and Champ of Pontiac, Mich.; one brother, James Bishop of Herrin, and one grandson, Bruce Bishop.

Funeral services will be held Friday at 2 p. m. at the Raleigh Baptist church conducted by the pastor, Rev. Howard Todd Taylor.

Burial will be in the Raleigh Masonic cemetery.

The body will lie in state at the Courtney funeral home in Galatia.

Employment Offices To Close Until Monday

In accordance with the Governor's directive, all offices of the Illinois Employment Service and Unemployment Compensation will be closed from Wednesday evening, Nov. 24, until Monday morning, Nov. 29.

Claimants scheduled to report Friday, Nov. 26, are requested to report the following Monday, Nov. 29.

Good Thanksgiving Weather Predicted For Most of Nation; Services Planned

By United Press

Perfect Thanksgiving Day weather was predicted for much of the nation today, but parts of the North and East were warned to be ready for snow flurries.

The U. S. Weather Bureau said the nation's only nasty weather Thursday is to be expected from the Great Lakes and upper Ohio Valley eastward to the Appalachians. Snow was expected to sweep the region.

Some fog was predicted for parts of Oregon, Washington and northern California.

But skies will be fair and temperatures will be normal in practically all the rest of the nation, forecasters said.

In many parts of the Midwest it was to be a white Thanksgiving and the wintry weather had already claimed at least six lives in traffic accidents.

Near Pittsville, Wis., three elderly persons were killed and three were injured Tuesday when their car skidded across hard-packed snow into a truck.

A similar accident killed two women near Milwaukee and, at

Plane Bearing Vishinsky's Body to Moscow Stops at Paris for Brief Ceremony

PARIS (UP) — The body of Andrei Y. Vishinsky was brought here today for a brief airport ceremony of homage and then was flown on to Moscow on the Soviet diplomat's last trip behind the Iron Curtain.

The plane carrying Vishinsky's body home from New York arrived here shortly before noon and official France arranged the ceremony for the Soviet spokesman whose inquest traced the pattern of Josef Stalin's cold war against the West.

Vishinsky will be buried in Moscow near the tomb of his Communist masters.

The chartered airliner carrying Vishinsky's coffin landed at Orly Airport at 11:25 a. m. Another airliner bringing U. S. Ambassador C. Douglas Dillon back to his post in Paris landed 15 minutes before the Vishinsky special, but the envoy did not wait at the airport.

A hundred stalwarts from French Communist organizations and Iron Curtain countries formed a stiff black line in homage as Soviet Ambassador Sergei A. Vinogradov and other officials helped Vishinsky's weeping widow and daughter from the plane.

They led the tearful women, dressed in deep black, into a small ground floor reception room banked with flowers and transformed into a chapel where Vishinsky's body lay before being flown on to Russia.

The room was draped in gray velvet and filled with wreaths from Communist organizations and one from French Premier Pierre Mendès-France.

French police dropped an Iron Curtain around the chapel and the airport at the special request of the Soviet ambassador to keep out newspaper reporters.

Vishinsky, who died of a heart attack in New York Monday, often stopped off in Paris while traveling and from United Nations headquarters.

Claims McCarthy Is Target of High Officers

WASHINGTON (UP) — Sen. Milton R. Young (R-ND) said today one reason he will oppose censure of Sen. Joseph McCarthy is that some high military officers who "despise the Congress" have singled out McCarthy as a target for criticism.

Young, announcing his decision to vote against censure in a letter to North Dakota newspapers, said McCarthy is entitled to "freedom of speech, including the right to criticize." He said McCarthy's critical comments about some of his fellow senators might have been "unwarranted and unreasonable," but broke no standing rule of the Senate.

Young charged that "some ambitious officers high in the ranks of the military have come to despise the Congress which directly represents the people."

"They will countenance no higher authority than their own," he said. "Some of them have been spoiling for a fight with Congress for a long while. When it seemed that Senator McCarthy was losing favor with the people, he became good target for their purpose."

Young did not name the officers to whom he was referring. But he said he was "not greatly disturbed" by McCarthy's questioning of Brig. Gen. Ralph W. Zwicker. Young called Zwicker an "arrogant, evasive witness."

Members of the park committee, Harry McAtee, chairman, and Warren Jennings and Loren Dallas, were in charge of the note-burning ceremony.

During the past several months work has been in progress to clear the land and most of the work has been completed. Next spring work of equipping the park will get underway.

Money to clear the indebtedness was raised through public auctions and the annual Halloween celebration.

The Ladies' Night group also saw pictures made by Fred Wasson during his recent trip to South America.

Demand Face-to-Face Meeting to Deliver Protest

Geneva Selected As Site for Unusual Diplomatic Maneuver

GENEVA, Switzerland (UP) — The United States government today demanded a face-to-face meeting with Red China's consul general in this neutral meeting-ground to deliver a blistering protest to China for the imprisonment of 13 Americans on "trumped-up" spy charges.

Shun Ting, the Communist consul general here, stayed behind the doors of his consulate and up to tonight had not replied to the U. S. demand that he stand up to the oral dressing-down ordered by Washington.

The Communist Peiping Radio, which announced the sentencing of the 13 Tuesday to prison terms ranging from four years to life, brazenly added new fuel to the fires of American indignation.

The Red radio said a total of 230 American and Nationalist Chinese "spies" dropped from planes by the United States Central Intelligence Agency since 1951 have been captured.

And it boasted that 106 of that number have been killed by the Reds.

There was no immediate indication from Peiping whether any Americans were among those killed or if any Americans in addition to the 13 named Tuesday were among the captured.

President Reassures Mother

President Eisenhower, in Washington, gave the distraught mother of one of the Americans sentenced Tuesday his personal assurance that everything "humanly possible, within peaceable means" is being done to obtain the release of the imprisoned men.

The State Department ordered the U. S. consul general here, Franklin C. Gowen, to deliver in person, in a face-to-face interview with Shun, the protest of the United States government.

Geneva was chosen for the diplomatic maneuver — unusual since the United States maintains no diplomatic relations with Red China — because Switzerland is a neutral area in which both governments are represented.

Shun apparently was caught by surprise, and without advice from his superiors in Peiping, by the American move. His consulate was silent throughout the day.

A Bitter Protest

If he does stand up to Gowen, it will be to receive an embittered oral protest backed by the indignation and anger of an aroused American Congress and public. No written note will be handed over to him because of the lack of formal diplomatic relations.

Geneva is the only place where the U. S. and Red China have any sort of direct diplomatic contact.

The United States does not recognize the Chinese Communist government and nearly all past dealings with the Peiping regime have been handled through Britain, which maintains diplomatic relations with the Reds.

Swiss diplomats said they considered it "very significant" that the United States had decided to deliver this protest directly.

The State Department described the note which Gowen would deliver as "the strongest possible protest."

The Chinese, in a blunt radio announcement late Tuesday, said the 13 U. S. airmen had been imprisoned after being convicted as "spies" carrying out missions seriously menacing the security of Red China.

China said the airmen were arrested.

Fighting the Cold War

Editorial — BY BRUCE BLOSSAT
One could search a long time before finding an expert on world affairs who believes that the Russians want a shooting war with the free nations. But only the glibbie imagine this means the Kremlin has abandoned its goal of world conquest.

It has been clear for many months that the Russians feel there is more to be gained—at less risk—in pursuing the kind of political and economic combat which has come to be known as the Cold War.

There is plenty of evidence that free-world diplomats understand this.
They seek to build defenses in this field every bit as stout as those deemed necessary on the military front. But they suffer handicaps.

Millions of people, particularly in long-beleaguered Europe, seem weary of any sort of struggle. They seek anxious refuge in neutralism, or, in their almost pitiful eagerness for tranquility, are too ready to believe Soviet professions of good will.

On the other hand, some cannot see the combat as anything but military. They are impatient of all expenditures not strictly for defense purposes, or closely related.
They view money spent for economic warfare as "down the drain."

Yet the record of Russia's performance can afford no real comfort to either viewpoint. The Kremlin's declarations of good intentions are phony, and Soviet leaders demonstrate this not so much by occasional attacks on American or Allied planes as by their relentless economic and political aggres-sions.

Russia, of course, applies its pressures everywhere. But it sees its greatest opportunities on underdeveloped continents like Asia and Africa, where aching poverty and nationalistic ferment combine to stir the populace to action.

In most of these lands the Russian army can play no active role. Many times the native Communist movement is itself small.
The impetus to rebellion must come from others more influential.
But once trouble boils over, the Reds are adept at hijacking the revolt and making it their own.
This is the essence of their technique—egging others to act and then seizing the fruits of their initiative.

In past months many sore spots
have been eased—in Egypt, Iran, Trieste, Guatemala. But the great backward continents are still in turmoil. We have no grounds for complacency.

We hold it in our power to lead them toward economic betterment and political self-fulfillment. If we act boldly and consistently to aid them, these stirring peoples will rise to become economically healthy, independent, free.

If we shrink from this responsibility, if we pretend the struggle does not exist or that it is purely military in prospect, then Russia will move in to hijack and warp their surging drive for self-determination.

Should that happen on any large scale, Asia and Africa, and with them much of our own national security, would likely go down the drain. To many that will seem a far more fearsome prospect than the risk of our dollars to prevent it.

We're Grateful for Enough to Go Around!

The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says:
Milton Eisenhower Stays Home
Rather Than Jeopardize Latin-American Relations; Malenkov and Molotov Disagree On Russian Policy Toward U. S.; Assassination Attempt On Premier Nasser Planned By Followers To Gain Favor For The Premier.

WASHINGTON — Here is the inside reason why Milton Eisenhower, brother of the President, refused to go to South America as a member of the American delegation to the big Pan American economic conference which opened in Rio De Janeiro yesterday.

Milton, it can be revealed, vigorously objects to Secretary of the Treasury's tightfisted policy toward loans to Latin-American governments. And rather than alibi for a shortsighted policy which he believes imperils the good-neighbor policy, Milton just announced he would stay home.

He had previously disagreed with Humphrey when the secretary of the treasury wanted to combine the Export-Import Bank with the World Bank. Milton, just returned from a trip through Latin America, argued to the contrary and won. However, Secretary Humphrey is the chief delegate at the Rio economic conference and the President's brother just didn't want to be in the position of bucking him.

This makes the third important change in the American delegation to the Pan American economic conference. First, Secretary of State John Foster Dulles dropped out, though he had previously stated at the Caracas conference that he would be present and that he considered this conference one of the most important of the year.

Second, Merwin Bohan, special U. S. ambassador in charge of preparing for the Rio conference, resigned. He, too, opposed the no-government-loan policy of Secretary Humphrey, argued that the best way to stop communism in Latin America was to help in the economic development of that area.

On top of this, Milton Eisenhower dropped out. No wonder Latin-American delegates are skeptical, and that Chile has proposed a special "Inter-Latin American Bank" which would raise all its money in Latin America with not a single dollar from the U. S. A.

Nothing could please the Kremlin more.

CO-EXISTENCE
Here is one of many reasons why Eisenhower sticks to a "co-existence" policy with Russia, despite pressure from Senator Knowland and some from the Pentagon.

The American embassy has reported that a major split appears to be developing between Premier Malenkov and Foreign Minister Molotov.

Malenkov apparently wants to follow a softer line in dealing with the United States. But Molotov, the fiery old Bolshevik, violently disagrees, even wants to step up the pace of the cold war.

At the October revolution reception, for instance, where Malenkov talked so reasonably with U. S.
Ambassador Bohlen, Molotov stood
by glowering and shaking his head, obviously burned up about the whole business. Despite this, Malenkov went right ahead talking with Bohlen, gave his personal promise that the door to the Kremlin would always be open to settle any incident threatening Russian-American relations. The conversation occurred just before Eisenhower took his "turn-the-other-cheek" attitude at the press conference following the U. S. bomber incident in Hokkaido.

EGYPTIAN PLOT
The so-called assassination plot against Premier Nasser actually is a big phony. The whole thing was engineered by Nasser's followers

as a means of getting rid of President Neguib.

American agents have now learned that the so-called assassin was hired secretly and given instructions to make sure he missed when he fired his revolver at Nasser. He was promised he could go free afterward. This explains why the assassin fired eight shots at Nasser from a distance of only 20 feet and missed each time.

Irony is that the assassin now probably will be shot himself because it would look too phony to permit him to go free.

YOUNGEST BUREAUCRAT

Assistant Secretary of Labor
Rocco Siciliano, aged 32, is not only one of the youngest members of the President's "Little Cabinet," but an untiring impresario of government service for other up-and-coming young men of ability and vision.

"No young man should turn down an opportunity to serve his government in a civil capacity at some time in his career, any more than he should dodge military service," says Siciliano, a former infantry lieutenant who won the Bronze Star for valor in World War II.

"Working for your government is both a proud responsibility and a challenge. Sure, the pay isn't all ways as good as in private industry and sometimes you get caught in political crossfires, but there are plenty of opportunities to make a name for yourself in the federal government as there are everywhere else in this great melting pot of democracy."

Siciliano is only one generation away from the "melting pot." His parents were Italian immigrants, who finally settled in Salt Lake City, Utah, and established a thriving restaurant business.
Young Siciliano, a graduate of the University of Utah and Georgetown law school, had a meteoric career as a labor-relations expert before joining the Labor Department.

In fact, his career has been meteoric in more ways than one.

"My wife, who ought to know, says that every time I get a promotion,
we get a new baby in the family,"

named as assistant labor secretary in July, 1953.

WASHINGTON PIPELINE

Senator McCarthy's original strategy was to stall the censure debate until Alger Hiss was released from prison, November 27.
McCarthy hoped that Hiss, coming out of prison with a burst of publicity, would revive public alarm over the Communist menace. Of course, McCarthy didn't purposely infect his elbow but it came in handy to delay the Senate debate.

General Collins has warned the Pentagon that it may be too late to try to build a real anti-Communist army in southern Indo-China.
The army is looking for a Negro officer to head a U. S. military training mission to the Negro Republic of Liberia. Eisenhower promised President Tubman of Liberia to help his country build a strong army.

Superstitions are Still Popular Among Us

LOS ANGELES — Superstitions are still very much alive in our modern times, according to Dr.
MacEdward Leach, folklore professor at University of California at Los Angeles.

Some of the popular superstitions observed by persons in all walks of life include:

1. A pair of miniature baby shoes hanging inside the cab of a truck will protect the driver against an accident.
2. Whiskey will cure colds.
3. If a black ace falls on the floor during a bridge game, don't play any more.
4. After opening canned foods,
place any leftovers in a glass jar
before putting them in the refrigerator.
5. Balls of cotton hung on strings in open doorways will keep out flies.

Lists Additional Christmas Seal Bond Purchasers

The following additional Christmas Seal sale bond purchasers have been reported by Mrs. Naida Seright Upchurch, chairman of the sale for the Saline County Tuberculosis association:

$10: Harrisburg Wholesale grocery; $5: Western Auto, Cecil C.
Simpson, Dr. Nova Skelton, W. E.
Funkhouser, Kenneth Trigg, Saline
Co. Monument Co., Dr. James W.
Gaskins, D. H. Hiller, Walter Lowe
and Rogers Auto Supply.

Mrs. Upchurch also lists the following facts about tuberculosis:
Tuberculosis is the nation's number one infectious killer, taking more American lives than all other infectious diseases combined.

Every 22 minutes, TB takes an American life. But, since the National Tuberculosis Ass'n was formed in 1904, the tuberculosis death rate has been drastically cut.

Although great progress has been made in stopping TB as a killer,
there has been no comparable advance in curbing TB as a crippler.
Tuberculosis will continue to spread until this reservoir of infection is eliminated.

In terms of dollars, the TB tax bill in this country is estimated at $600,000,000, exclusive of hospital construction or the training of professional personnel.

Christmas Seals are the support of the 3,000 tuberculosis associations throughout the United States and its possessions.

National TV Series Planned by Methodist Church

CHICAGO — The Methodist church has announced plans to sponsor a nationwide half-hour television show with "appeal for all."

Plans for the dramatic program series were outlined Tuesday by Bishop Donald H. Tippett of San Francisco to delegates of the National Superintendents Conference.
Tippett said the church hopes to raise $296,000 to produce a "quality television series for national distribution."

He said no format for the program has been decided upon, but that it will be similar to the "This is the Life" program produced by the Evangelical Lutheran church, Missouri Synod.

"Across the church there is an insistent demand that we do something in television on a national scale," Tippett said.
"These programs will be the answer. As the program is now conceived, it will have a minimum of 'preachiness' and will appeal to the church-goer and non-church-goer alike."

education (getting the facts about TB to the people); (2) case finding (group and community chest X-ray examinations to detect TB early when it's easiest to cure); (3) rehabilitation (for patients in TB hospitals and for those who have been discharged); (4) medical research.

Ninety-four per cent of each Christmas Seal dollar remains to fight TB within the state where it was contributed while six per cent is forwarded to the National TB
Ass'n to maintain its services.

Hi-Tri Formal Initiation, Tea At HTHS Nov. 30

The annual Hi-Tri formal initiation and tea will be held at HTHS Nov. 30 at 4 p. m. in Bonnell gym. The Hi-Tri was founded by Miss Cornelia Pierce when she was dean of girls at the Mt. Vernon Township high school. It was a dream of Miss Pierce's to form an organization for girls to emphasize high ideals. The aims of Hi-Tri are in the form of rungs on a ladder symbolizing loyalty, success, character, pleasure, friendship, and courtesy. The girls at Mt. Vernon named the rungs and when finished said, "That is a high goal to try for." From that the name of Hi-Tri originated.

In keeping with the purpose of Hi-Tri, each year the HTHS Hi-Tri holds a formal initiation using a ceremonial which Miss Pierce originated.

The Hi-Tri officers and senior council members who will take part in the ceremonial representing the Hi-Tri aims are Judy Morse—loyalty; Carolyn Herron—success; Joann Zuanella—character; Barbara Dunn—pleasure; Sara Cummins—friendship, and Sally Smith—courtesy.

The sextet which will sing Perfect Prayer, I Would Be True, and Follow the Glean is composed of the following girls: Nancy Fulkerson, Barbara Dunn, Dorothy Hanning, Dorothy Schneider, Barbara Upchurch, and Dawan Martin, being accompanied at the organ by Mona Wickham.

Girls who will serve as ushers for the initiation are Janie Davis, Janet Thompson, Mary Schwartz, and Patsy Schwartz.

A tea follows the initiation with the mothers of the Hi-Tri girls and teachers as guests. The tea will be served by the Homemaking department.

Arab Student Speaks To Woman's Club on Palestine and Arabia

The Harrisburg Woman's club met in the library Monday afternoon for a program on International Relations which was directed by Mrs. Ray Durham.

Hostesses were Mrs. W. E. Pankey, Mrs. L. I. Webb and Mrs. Adolph Smith.

The meditation on "Gratitude" was given by Mrs. Herman Davis after which Mrs. L. N. Davenport, accompanied by Mrs. Dale Sullivan at the piano, sang "One World."

Mrs. Durham then presented the guest speaker for the afternoon, Faiz Daqqaq, a foreign student at Southern Illinois university, who spoke on "Palestine and Arabia." He was dressed in his native costume.

He began by stating he was an Arab in nationality, was born in Jerusalem and was a Moslem by religion. He became a refugee at the time that the Jews took over the Jewish portion of that city, and joined the army, after which he taught in an American school.

In Jordan, he said, there is no co-education. Boys must go to one school and girls to another, and there are government schools and Christian missionary schools. The students work extra hard in their studies since entering the government schools is determined by grades. Eight subjects are studied every day, and the teacher goes from student to student teaching him instead of teaching the class at one time. There are no universities in Jordan because they are too expensive.

He went on to talk of the religion in Jordan, saying that 25 per cent is Christian and 75 per cent Moslem.

Around ten years ago Women's clubs were organized in Jordan for women under 35 years of age, but in other cities the clubs have been organized for over 50 years, and there are clubs for older women as well.

There are no "open" friendships between boys and girls; all gatherings must be made in secret. When a boy decides that he wants to marry a girl, he tells his mother and father, who in turn go to the girl's parents to bargain for her. If her parents want more money than the boy's parents are willing to pay, they will sit and debate and have meeting after meeting until some agreement is reached.

Arabs do not want girl babies to be born because they are said to bring bad luck. If a boy is born, it is a very joyous occasion, but if a girl is brought into the world everyone is sad.

He closed by saying that he liked his work at the university quite well and that he had made many American friends. He is studying to be an engineer and plans to go back to his country upon graduation.

Janet Sue Stricklin Has Party on Sixth Birthday

A birthday party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stricklin Saturday afternoon, Nov. 20, in honor of the sixth birthday of their daughter, Janet Sue.

Games were played and Linda Caluffetti, Danny Brashear and Steve Horton were the prize winners.

After the little hostess opened her many interesting gifts, with much help from her guests, she blew out the six lighted candles on her cake. Refreshments of individual cakes, ice cream and strawberry soda were served to Jean Ellen and Danny Joe Gully, Richard Aldridge, Diana Dec Dodd, Trisha Whitlock, Linda Caluffetti, James Albert and Danny Brashear, Elizabeth Whitlock, Stanley Wayne Hull, Ronnie and Corkie Hise, Stephen Horton, Susie Stricklin, Charles Yerber, Jimmie Stricklin, Mrs. Reba Horton, Mrs. Lucille Dodd, Mrs. Lillian LeMieux, of Chicago and Mrs. Mabel Stricklin.

March of Dimes Goals to be Higher

MURPHYSBORO, Ill. (AP)—Andy Gloescki, Illinois representative of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, told southern Illinois March of Dimes workers Tuesday night polio fund goals will be about 16 per cent higher in 1955.

Gloescki spoke at a meeting to March of Dimes chairmen and workers from Jackson, Perry, Randolph and Union counties. He said it looks like 1954 will be a bad polio year in Illinois with 2,000 cases reported at present with about half of them in Cook county.

Fire Blacks Out Michael Reese Hospital 70 Minutes

CHICAGO (AP)—A smoldering fire plunged one of Chicago's largest hospitals into darkness for 70 minutes early today.

The fire knocked the control board of Michael Reese hospital out of commission. All of the hospital's 21 buildings were blacked out by the power failure.

During the period from 12:50 a. m. to 2 a. m. a baby boy was born and orderlies and nurses applied artificial respiration with their hands to two polio patients in iron lungs.

Hospital work went on with the aid of flashlights and portable power lights until service was restored. There was no estimate of damage.

Mary Ledbetter, Ruth; Gladys Galoway, Esther; Alberta Young, Martha; Elva Paris, Electa; Nona Matheny, warder; Elmer Ralph, sentinel.

Installing officers were: Mrs. Mary Clark, Rosalene; Mrs. Florence Lloyd, chaplain; Mrs. Bessie Border, Harrisburg, marshal; Mrs. Madge Dougherty, Raleigh, organist.

Escorts included E. S. Wall Jr., Harry Border, and Don Endicott, the last two from Harrisburg. Mrs. Don Endicott, Harrisburg, served as mistress of ceremonies and William Douglas, Harrisburg, served as color bearer. Adiel Owen gave the "Ode to the Flag." Tena Kay Bone and Judy Johnson were the candle lighters.

Mrs. Matheny, retiring worthy matron, was presented with the jewel of her office. Lizbeth Stanford, soloist for the evening, made the presentation. E. F. Wall Jr., presented the past officer's jewel to Mr. Dinse, retiring worthy patron.

The new worthy matron received an arm bouquet of yellow roses

Notice of Sale of Real Estate for Taxes or Special Assessments; and Notice of Filing Petition for Order to Issue Tax Deed

TO: The Unknown heirs of W. H. Davis, deceased, and all Unknown Owners or Parties Interested in the real estate hereinafter described.

You and each of you are hereby notified that on the 20th day of October, 1952, the County Court of Saline County, Illinois entered a judgment and order of sale (in Case No. 461-A) upon delinquent lands and lots, and fixed the correct amount of tax paid under protest in the County of Saline and State of Illinois for the year 1951; that the undersigned, as purchaser or assignee of the purchaser, on the 20th day of October, 1952, at the sale ordered in said proceedings which sale was held by the County Collector of said County on the day aforesaid at the Court House in the City of Harrisburg, in the County of Saline, and State of Illinois, purchased said delinquent land and lots for the taxes, interest, penalties and costs due and unpaid for the year 1951; And that such delinquent lands and lots so purchased are more particularly described as follows:

Lot Two (2), Block Fifteen (15) in G. H. Dorris' Third Subdivision in the Village of Dorrisville, now in the City of Harrisburg, situated in the County of Saline, in the State of Illinois.

Such real estate so purchased was last taxed in the name of J. Earl Crabb. The extended time for redemption of said real estate will expire on the 1st day of April, 1955.

On the 9th day of November, 1954, the undersigned filed a petition in the County Court of Saline County, Illinois in the same proceeding in which the aforesaid judgment and order of sale was entered. Said petition prays that the court enter an order directing the County Clerk to issue a tax deed to the undersigned if the real estate shall not be redeemed from the sale; And the undersigned intends to make an application to the court on the 4th day of April, 1955, at the hour of 9 A. M. for an order on said petition that a deed issue to the undersigned if the real estate shall not be redeemed from the sale.

Two Big Questions--Will Hiss Tell Full Story, Will He Face Further Prosecution

NEW YORK (AP)—Alger Hiss will be freed from prison this week end and the big question is: Will Hiss ever tell the full story?

A second question is whether Hiss may be prosecuted further.

The 50-year-old former State Department official is expected to make his home, at least temporarily, in the small Manhattan apartment where his wife and son have lived during the three years and eight months he was in prison.

Two congressional committees have indicated they may want to question him. They are the House Un-American Activities Committee and the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee.

They may move fast to interrogate Hiss before Christmas while Republicans still control Congress and hold the committee chairmanships.

There is no indication that Hiss intends to change his story that Whittaker Chambers told a complete falsehood when he testified that he and Hiss worked together as Communist spies from 1935 to 1938. Hiss has charged that the documents Chambers produced were the result of "forgery by type-writer."

Should he be called before a congressional committee again, Hiss apparently would have three courses open to him:

1. He could refuse to answer all questions and claim the Fifth Amendment on grounds his answers might incriminate him.

2. He could tell the same story he told before. That was that he knew Chambers casually as a free-lance writer but never transmitted State Department documents to him. With such a course he could not be charged again with perjury because of the double jeopardy provisions of the law.

3. He could tell a completely full account of his activities. The Department of Justice would scrutinize such an account very carefully. Convicted of Perjury

Hiss was convicted of perjury but, in effect, the jury found that he had committed espionage.

Government security officials would like to ask him many more questions: Are there Communists in his "cell" still working for the government? Did Hiss continue to pass on secrets after Chambers broke with the Reds in 1938 and to whom did he give them? Did he have secret contact with the Russians at the Yalta conference or at the U. N. San Francisco conference in 1945?

It is not believed the government would attempt to prosecute Hiss under the Smith Act for being party to an organization which conspired to advocate and teach the violent overthrow of the government. That law went into effect in 1940 and all past evidence regarding Hiss predates that time.

His brother Donald has said he does not believe Alger will write a book, as Chambers did.

Hiss got 16 months off his sentence for good behavior but he will have to report regularly to a probation officer on his activities. Making a living for this man who was earning $20,000 a year at the time of his arrest may be very difficult. He has been disbarred both by federal and state courts.

When Hiss was seeking parole two years ago this month, Justice Michael A. Musmanno of the Pennsylvania Supreme Court was one of those who opposed it vigorously. He told the parole board:

"Were Alger Hiss to be released now, we have every reason to believe he would return to his former allegiance to the Communist conspiracy. He would contact other spies in our midst or they would contact him."

Mother of Gov. Dewey Dies

OWOSSO, Mich. — Mrs. Annie Dewey, mother of New York Governor Thomas E. Dewey, died in her sleep Tuesday night at her home here. She was 77.

Mrs. Dewey's body was discovered by her housekeeper, Mrs. Pearl Macey, who went to call her for breakfast at 7:15 a. m.

Mrs. Dewey, a widow, had complained of pains in her chest Tuesday.

The New York governor, her only son, was called in Miami where he had arrived on vacation Tuesday. Dewey planned to leave Miami by plane shortly.

President Gets Luxurious New Airplane

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower gets a luxurious new plane today equipped with everything from a refrigerator to a two-way radio telephone.

Mrs. Eisenhower will christen the plane immediately before she and the President depart for Augusta, Ga., for the Thanksgiving holiday and week end. In place of the traditional bottle of champagne she will use a bottle of water from Colorado's Platte River, one of the President's favorite trout streams, in the christening ceremony.

The plane, named "Columbine III" by the President's grandchildren, is a Lockheed Super-Constellation which is more powerful, faster and contains more safety equipment than two other planes named "Columbine" the President has used.

It includes a stateroom which the President can use as an office by day and as a bedroom by night. This is the room which contains the two-way radio telephone as well as radio-teletype. The President's desk and a conference table are also here.

At night, two couches in the stateroom convert into a three-quarter size bed.

The decorating is in keeping with such luxury. The carpet of the presidential stateroom is of medium green rayon fabric. The side walls are covered with a pale green garbancine material. The furniture is of bleached walnut. There is indirect lighting throughout plus individual reading lights.

Couple, Both 95, Celebrate Their 79th Wedding Anniversary

SAGLE, Ida. — The Benjamin Franklin Hartleys celebrated their 79th wedding anniversary today and scoffed at other oldsters who claimed to be America's longest married couple.

"Why, they're just newlyweds," boomed the sprightly Hartley when told a Texas couple was believed to be the longest married at 74 years.

Records show Drusilla Keith and Benjamin Hartley — both now 95 years old — were married in London County, Tenn., Nov. 24, 1875.

Elizabethtown Woman Dies

Mrs. Ethel Gerhardt, 68, died yesterday at 6:15 p. m. at her home in Elizabethtown.

The funeral will be held Thursday at 2 p. m. at the Rosiclarer Methodist church. Rev. Raymond Rose will officiate, and burial will be in the Fluorine cemetery.

Former British Army Clerk Admits Spying

LONDON (AP)—A former British army clerk accused of spying confessed that he was sent by a Soviet diplomat to spy on United States Navy headquarters in London, a Scotland Yard agent testified today.

Chief Inspector Charles Ward said the 27-year-old defendant, John Clarence, told him he called at the big U. S. naval center in Grosvenor Square "at the suggestion" of a Russian attaché named Barabanov. His mission was to make friends among the Americans.

The Soviet embassy told news-men there was an Ivan Ilyich Barabanov, who is the second secretary. The embassy had no other comment.

Clarence was brought up for hearing on charges of collecting secret information on Britain's radar-controlled anti-aircraft defenses.

Ward quoted Clarence as saying he "offered his services in any capacity" to Barabanov and agreed to spy on Soviet refugees living in Britain.

Clarence was charged under the same anti-espionage act used against Klaus Fuchs who betrayed atomic secrets to the Russians. Maximum penalty on each of the two charges against Clarence is 14 years imprisonment.

Britain only last May accused two Soviet diplomats of attempted spying and ordered them to leave the country. The second secretary of the Soviet Embassy was expelled in 1952 after a young radio operator was convicted of handing over to him "official secrets."

They were born near Knoxville, Tenn., and grew up on adjoining farms where they were childhood chums and schoolmates.

They have three sons — James, 78, Frank, 72, and Leo, 70.

U. S. Denounces Sentencing of Prisoners

rested after their planes had been shot down.

U. S. Charges Reds Lie

The United States said the Chinese charges were deliberate lies — the diplomatic wording said "palpably false." Washington said all the Americans were crewmen or passengers aboard two U. S. planes engaged in "routine flights." In statements bristling with anger, the State and Defense departments Tuesday night accused Red China of filing false charges, showing "bad faith," "insincerity," and "amorality" and violating the rules of war, international law and the Korean armistice.

"The continued wrongful detention of these American citizens," said the State Department, "furnishes further proof of the Chinese Communist regime's disregard for accepted practices of international conduct."

The U. S. Far East Air Force in Tokyo joined the State Department in branding the Red Chinese charges as lies.

An Air Force spokesman denied the planes were sent on espionage missions. He said at least nine of the sentenced Americans were shot down over North Korea while on a leaflet dropping mission.

The news of the sentences sent a shiver of resentment through the nation. Wives and mothers expressed shock and anger and deep discouragement at the new blow to their hopes that their men would soon be free. Some had just received letters indicating an early homecoming.

Some Encouragement

In two cases, however, there was a kind of wan encouragement. The civilians — Richard George Fecteau of Lynn, Mass., and John Thomas Downey of New Britain, Conn. — had been listed officially as dead and the Peiping announcement indicated they are alive.

Congressmen accused the Communists of lying and called for such counter measures as an appeal for a United Nations investigation, some kind of an exchange of prisoners, or even force. Sen. Herman Welker (R-Idaho) said the United States should strike back with force because this is "the only thing the Communist seem to fear."

Sen. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont.) formally asked Secretary of State John Foster Dulles to carry the case to the United Nations and request a U. N. investigation. The State Department declined immediate comment but experts said privately that every effort would be made through diplomatic channels before such a move is attempted. Force Only Compulsion

It was generally agreed here that there is nothing the United States can do, short of force, to compel the Chinese to give up the U. S. prisoners. The chief lever is expected to be the pressure of world opinion and possibly a direct appeal to Russia to exert its influence.

Fifteen Americans have been repatriated through Geneva. But the Defense Department claims Red China has failed to account for another 511 men listed as missing in the Korean war. And 26 U. S. civilians are believed stranded behind the Bamboo Curtain.

The 13 Americans imprisoned in China and sentences:

Fecteau, 27 — Sentenced to 20 years. Downey, 24 — sentenced to life. Col. John K. Arnold Jr., 41, Montgomery, Ala., sentenced to 10 years. Maj. William H. Baumer, 23, Lewisburg, Pa., sentenced to eight years. Capt. Eugene J. Vaadi, Clayton, N. Y., sentenced to six years. 1st Lt. Wallace L. Brown, Banks, Ala., sentenced to five years. 1st Lt. John W. Thanksgiving

Early in our history there was inaugurated the custom of observing one day at harvest time as a day of thanks to God for His mercies throughout the year.

WE ARE GRATEFUL that we are permitted to follow this hallowed custom and to give reverent thanks for the blessings bestowed upon us . . .

WE ARE GRATEFUL for our churches and for the privilege to worship God according to the dictates of our own conscience . . .

WE ARE GRATEFUL for the many daily manifestations of divine help, in our affairs both public and private, which are bestowed upon us and enrich our lives.

May We Ever Be Mindful Of Our Obligations To God For The Betterment Of All Mankind.

'Caning' Will Deter Juvenile Delinquency, Field Marshal Says

NEW YORK — Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery of Alamein Tuesday night advocated "caning" unruly school boys as a deterrent to juvenile delinquency.

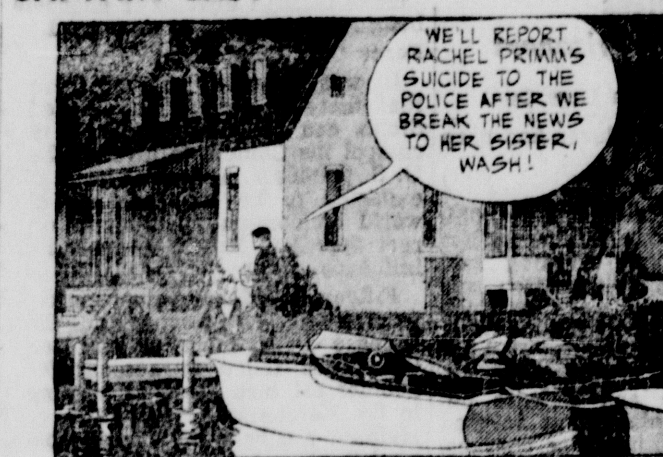

"I was well beaten myself," he said, "and I am the better for it." In the second of two lectures on "Education and Leadership" at Columbia University, Montgomery also suggested to the 1,500 educators present that the American education system is ill suited to producing world leaders.

He urged that the minority high-caliber students be separated from the mediocre majority and given special training.

Montgomery will have Thanksgiving dinner Thursday at Augusta, Ga., with President Eisenhower.

F. H. Vahlsing, Inc., in Texas' Lower Rio Grande Valley, was the first concern to introduce the use of snow icing of vegetables.

Deaf Man Perfects Hearing Aid Without Tubes; Only 9¢ A Month To Operate

H. A. Lyons today voiced new hope to the hard of hearing by announcing the perfection of the miracle new MIDGET TRANSITOR Hearing Aid. Lyons, who has been deaf himself for over 25 years, says a new life is open to people who have been "shut out" from the enjoyment of everyday happenings.

With this amazing midget aid you will once again enjoy hearing children's voices, birds singing, the radio, even the ticking of the clock, and the thousand and one daily happenings you have missed for so long.

The new aid uses a single cell.

and is so inexpensive that a year's supply is furnished free with the aid. No more constant changing of batteries. What is more, the aid may be worn so your closest friends need never know.

This new hearing aid will give you better hearing and clearer understanding than any other hearing aid, because it is personally fitted to your individual requirements.

It is suggested, if interested for yourself or a friend, write to Tone-master Hearing Aid Co., 813 W. Indiana St., Evansville, Indiana, and they will be glad to send further information, at no cost or obligation.—Adv.

Pinckneyville Voters Reject Gas System

PINCKNEYVILLE, Ill. — Voters in this southern Illinois coal field community Tuesday rejected a $485,000 bond issue for a municipal gas system by 41 votes.

The vote on the proposed 30-year bonds was 532 for and 573 against. The voters also turned down city ownership of a gas system, 501 for and 547 against.

About 250 coal miners living here campaigned vigorously against the proposal on grounds that use of gas would threaten their jobs.

The City Council previously refused the Illinois Power Co. a franchise to supply gas to the city. The council also turned down a group of local businessmen seeking to set up a gas utility.

Arrested

Frank Greeley of this city today was arrested on a larceny charge, Greeley admitting to county officers that he took 41 bushels of soybeans from Everett Gates, who lives west of town.

THE STORY: Greg Seaver, a young man who wants to do something on his own, leaves the relative security of working for his stepfather, to become the chauffeur of Wade Daggett, a wealthy invalid, whose paralysis has left his face disfigured. They have picked up Rupert Landusky, an alien illegally in the country, as they travel in Daggett's car and trailer. At present they have reached no decision what to do about Landusky, who was exhausted and half starved when they found him.

XIII

The traffic seemed to spring up from nowhere. For the first couple of hours, Greg had been vaguely aware that there were more cars on the road than usual, but now there was a steady line of traffic and he slowed down.

"What have you got into?" Daggett demanded impatiently.

"I don't know. According to the map there is nothing special ahead. We may run out of this soon."

"Always in a hurry to move on," Rupert commented. "And to think that you like it. Sometimes I believe you are the youngest of us."

"Don't say that," Daggett protested. "It makes me feel so old to have people tell me how young I am. It's the last step before senility. Dawdling makes me nervous, that's all. And especially on a road like this where there is nothing to see."

"You hold your horses," Greg called over his shoulder. Then his eyes were caught by a roadside sign and he began to laugh. "Oh, Forrestville. Of course. I should have remembered. They always have big doings in April. We are on our way to a local celebration. An annual affair that has gone on beyond the memory of man."

"But why at this season? Only hardy idiots like ourselves visit Maine for pleasure in April. It won't thaw out here for another six weeks."

"Anniversary of the founder's birth," Greg explained. "They have horse racing and parachute drops during the day and a carnival at night."

"How do you know all this?" Daggett asked.

"I was born in Maine."

"I didn't know that."

"Well," Greg pointed out reasonably, "after all, I had to be born somewhere."

Shawneetown Edges Cave-in-Rock, 49-48; Vienna, Pope Co. Win

Shawneetown, Vienna, and Pope Co. posted cage victories in Greater Egyptian conference play last night edging out opponents Cave-in-Rock, Equality and Rosiclare respectively.

Unbeaten Shawneetown had to come from behind to nip Cave-in-Rock, 49-48, for their fifth straight. Equality faded in the closing minute to lose a heartbreaker to Vienna, 47-43, and Pope Co. romped to a 76-43 decision over Rosiclare's young Bears.

Lowell Oxford's Rivermen were all set for invading Shawneetown and gave the league leading Indians a rough time. The home team outtraced Shawnee on the big Cave floor through the first half.

Looking At Sports

By BILL MELTON

Fred "Catfish" Wilmoth of Harrisburg has been awarded a varsity football letter at the University of Illinois. Wilmoth, a sophomore, was one of twenty-nine members of the U. of I. football squad to receive a varsity letter.

Another former South Seven conference grinner, Dean Renn of West Frankfort, also received a letter.

The "looking" I have been doing the past hour or so covers a period of three or four years.

Changed desks as a result of a shuffle in The Register front office staff. Moved from the circulation desk—now occupied by Jim Tanner—to a desk in the editorial department. At one time in the past the desk was used by Norm Jolow and he left many books, magazines and other reference materials when he moved on to a full-time sports editor's job up north.

A lot of stuff were releases from the late St. Louis Browns. If they had come up with players as good as they did public relations men, the Browns would have finished at the top of the American League and not at the bottom.

In one release Bill Veeck, Browns' president says "Frankly, we think the Browns are a first division club." He was referring to the 1953 team that finished a dismal last. That release is now in the waste basket. Let's move on.

Seem to be going in reverse. Just found the 1952 Trotting and Pacing Guide, published by the United States Trotting Association. Next is the 1953 handbook for the National Baseball Congress. Find some publicity regarding the 1953 Big Ten track and field meet.

More Brownie stuff. An envelope containing 8 x 10 glossy prints of members of the 1953 team. Beautiful pictures.

Just found something that indicates this isn't my first time to use the desk and also that Jolow wasn't the only one to save things. Find a letter addressed to me dated in 1949 and also a score card of the last Brownie game I saw. The game was about the last of August, 1953, with the Browns the loser to Washington. As we were leaving the park after that game I remember my wife saying "Don't think I will ever come to see the Browns again. Have been coming with you to see them for years and never have seen them win." Guess that is why they moved—the fans had watched them for years without seeing them win.

Well, the files are now partially cleaned out and the stuff is in the waste basket. Wonder how long it will be before I start looking for it for reference purposes?

Picking the Grid Winners IN THE Sport Parade

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (U.P.)—Foley's Folies and the week-end football "winners"—and dogged near time, too.

Game of the Week—Army over Navy—But it will need an assist from the weather man. On a dry field, Army has too much speed. If it comes up rain, though, the Middies should pull it out.

The East—Cornell over Penn—The Quakers' last chance to win a game but they simply don't have the manpower.

Colgate over Brown—But they'll have to be really ready.

Boston College over Holy Cross—A perpetual upset game.

Fordham over Villanova—Not as bad as they look.

The South—Miami over Florida—Plus a lot of bruises.

Georgia Tech over Georgia—The wreck is rambling.

Mississippi over Mississippi State—Could be real close.

Duke over North Carolina—Anything can happen here.

Maryland over Missouri—Neither up to snuff.

Tennessee over Vanderbilt—But not in the old manner.

Also: LSU over Tulane, South Carolina over Wake Forest, West Virginia over Virginia, Auburn over Alabama, Clemson over The Citadel, William and Mary over Richmond, VPI over VMI, Dayton over Chattanooga.

The Midwest—Notre Dame over Southern California—That odor isn't attar of roses.

Oklahoma over Oklahoma Aggies—Without working up a sweat.

Cincinnati over Miami—Two tough clubs.

The Southwest—SMU over TCU—Question of which tailed off most.

Baylor over Rice—Really "up" for this one.

Arkansas over Houston—Without routine.

Texas over Texas Aggies—No soft touch now.

Also: Wichita over Tulsa, Texas Tech over Hardin-Simmons, Texas Western over West Texas State.

The West—Arizona over Wyoming—A toss-up.

Utah over Utah State—Who's to know?

Also: Denver over Colorado A&M, San Jose State over New Mexico and Nebraska over Hawaii.

Galatia Hands Ridgway Eagles 75-62 Setback

Exhibiting some of the form and shooting ability of past Bearcat teams, Galatia high's 1954-55 aggregation bounced back from their opening season defeat to hand invading Ridgway a 75-62 setback.

The game was undecided until the closing minutes, as the guest Eagles rallied on numerous occasions to threaten their host. Galatia held leads varying all the way from five points to 15 in the final quarter and that was typical of the entire fracas.

Getting away fast, the Bearcats ran up a 16-3 advantage in the first period only to see Ridgway chop it to 18-13 before the quarter buzzer sounded. Again in the second canto Sammy Miranda's boys appeared off on a rout, as they piled up a 34-21 margin. Once more the Eagles soared back in the final minutes, shaving Galatia's lead to a mere six points, 37-31, at halftime.

Ridgway Wins Preliminary
In the third the Ridgway quintet trailed all the way from six to 10 points. They made their final bid a desperate one in the fourth quarter, pulling within five points of the defending GEC champs. Galatia broke into one of its scoring sprees again in the final four minutes to stockpile the 13 point deficit.

Officials called a total of 48 fouls, Galatia losing two men and Ridgway one via the personal route. During the first half, the Eagles connected only five times from the field but made 21 foul tosses to stay in contention. Galatia made 27 of 35 free tosses, Ridgway 30 of 48.

John Tate and Ronnie Gray were the big guns for Galatia with 21 and 18 points respectively. Downed the losers with 20.

The preliminary tussle was taken by Ridgway, 60-41.

Ridgway journeys to McLeansboro tonight to help the Foxes open their season.

of the Kiwanis club and was signed by each member.

The state at the present time is not paying the full amount of aid provided by law and the amount is falling more and more upon the local communities to provide more funds of their own.

Mr. Foster concluded by saying that while costs are up the school should not be expected to operate at a lower rate than other schools. The board feels, he said, that the young people here are entitled to the best educational program that can be afforded and that our school district can afford one as good as those maintained by neighboring communities.

Guests at last night's meeting were Joe Scroggins, a former member, and Robert Jones, guest of his father, Glen Jones.

John Schork, president, announced that next Tuesday night the Kiwanis club will observe Farmers' Night and several farmers of the county will be guests of the club.

Beal Receives Special Mention By Daily News

Tony Beal, Harrisburg junior fullback, received special mention on the Chicago Daily News all-state football team announced today.

Special mention is a category between the fourth team selections and honorable mention.

Most selections were upstate. Jim Jones, East St. Louis end, made the first team; Bobby Joe Mason, back, and Leonard Taylor, guard, both of Centralia, and Jack Purdy, East St. Louis back, made the second team; Lou Holdener of Assumption made third team tackle, Carl Rogge of Lawrenceville made third team back and Don Mason of East St. Louis made third team back. Jim Sims of East St. Louis made fourth team center.

Other southern Illinois boys receiving mention:

Special mention: Halfbacks—Carroll Sanders of Benton, Bill Lawrence of Herrin, Louis Mitchell of Carmi, Harold Knowles of Mt. Carmel, Bert Ozburn of Murphysboro; quarterback—Bill Norwood of Centralia and Gary Roberts of Murphysboro; centers, Joe Wendryshski of West Frankfort; tackles, Gary Frasier of Chester and Charles Steptoe of Centralia; ends, Gary Blaha of Assumption.

Honorable Mention

Ends: Fred Wham and Ronald Klosterman of Centralia, Rod Lovellette of Mt. Carmel, Robert Van Buskirk of Fairfield.

Tackles: Harold Spond of Mt. Carmel, Larry Doyle of Bridgeport, Jim Elliott of Olney.

Guards: Gerald Stevenson of Salem, John Baker of Lawrenceville, Charlie Duvall of Carmi, Otis Gains of Lawrenceville, Bill Demier of Fairfield.

Centers: Karl Hearne of Fairfield, Keith Sills of Carmi.

Quarterbacks: Bob Rousey of Lawrenceville, Warren Schneider of Salem, Larry Ballinger of Robinson, Ronnie Winters of Carmi.

Halfbacks: Paul Ritter of Centralia, Larry Holmes of Fairfield, Carl Smith of Fairfield.

Fullbacks: Larry McGreavey of Centralia.

Italian Driver Wins Gruelling Pan-American Race

JUAREZ, Mexico (U.P.)—Umberto Maglioli, a mild-mannered Italian with a penchant for speed, owned a new record for the gruelling 1,908-mile Pan American road race today and the top prize of $18,000 that goes with it.

Maglioli, driving a blood-red Ferrari, lost the first and last laps in the world's most testing auto race, but his overall time of 17 hours 40 minutes and 26 seconds topped the old mark of 18 hours and 11 minutes set in last year's event by Juan Manuel Fangio.

Phil Hill of Santa Monica, Calif., driving a white Ferrari owned by Allen Guiberson of Dallas, Tex., gave Maglioli a strong race in Tuesday's final lap—a 22.5 mile jaunt from Chihuahua to Jarez' airport.

Both Maglioli and Hill competed in the unlimited sports car class. Ray Crawford of Pasadena, Calif., won the heavy stock car class and $16,600 in a Lincoln. In the U. S. small stock car class, Tommy Drisdale of El Paso, Tex., took top honors with a Dodge. A cluster of four Italians, all driving Alfa Romeos and led by Gonzalvo Sanesi, dominated the European stock car class. Sanesi earned $4,480.

Midwest and Southwest Dominate United Press All-America Team

Ameche Leads in Point Scoring; UCLA Tackle is Runner-up

By LEO H. PETERSEN
United Press Sports Editor
NEW YORK (U.P.)—The Midwest and the Southwest, landing four players each, dominate the 1954 United Press All-America football team selected today by the ballots of 308 sportswriters and broadcasters from every section of the country.

The other three positions went to one player each from the East, South and Pacific Coast. Thus, every section of the country is represented on the mythical eleven.

Chosen as the finest college players at their position in the land were:

Ends—Max Boydston, Oklahoma, and Don Hollender, Army.

Tackles—Jack Ellena, UCLA, and Sid Fournet, Louisiana State.

Guards—Calvin Jones, Iowa, and Bud Brooks, Arkansas.

Center—Kurt Burris, Oklahoma. Backs—Ralph Guglielmi, Notre Dame; Howard Cassidy, Ohio State; Dick Moege, Rice, and Alan Ameche, Wisconsin.

Entire New Team

All are seniors except Jones, Hollender and Cassidy, and they are juniors. None, however, was on the 1953 United Press All-America team. Of that eleven, only two played this season—center Larry Morris of Georgia Tech and back J. C. Caroline of Illinois. Morris won the second team center berth this year while Caroline finished among the honorable mentions with only 128 points.

The 308 sports writers and broadcasters who voted this year represented the largest number ever to participate in the All-America balloting, and the player who caught their fancy the most was Wisconsin's crashing fullback, Ameche. He led the point scoring with 7,753 out of a possible total of 3,388. He was chosen for either a first or second team berth on all but 35 of the ballots.

Ellena was selected as the outstanding lineman. With 2,697 points, the UCLA tackle was runner-up to Ameche, with Cassidy, Ohio State's brilliant halfback, third in the point-getting with 2,580.

As it has since 1951, the Midwest dominated the first three teams with a total of 13 positions. The Pacific Coast was second, winding up with seven spots, followed by the Southwest and East with five each. The South, which dominated the 1951 All-Star selections with 10 posts, won only three berths on the first three teams this season.

UCLA Leads Way
UCLA won the most berths on the first three teams with four, while Ohio State, Notre Dame and Army came up with three each. Oklahoma, Georgia Tech, Purdue, California and Michigan, with two players each, were the only other schools to land more than one spot on the first three teams.

The nation's three major undefeated teams—UCLA, Ohio State and Oklahoma—ranked in that order in the United Press ratings. Each was represented on the All-America team. Oklahoma won two berths, the only school to get more than one spot.

The personnel of the second and third teams:

Second Team

Ends—Beagle and Dean Dugger, Ohio State.

Tackles—Frank Varrichione, Notre Dame, and James Smith, Baylor.

Guards—Jim Salsbury, UCLA, and Tom Bettis, Purdue.

Center—Morris.

Backs—Paul Larson, California; George Shaw, Oregon; Primo Villanueva, UCLA; and Bob McNamara, Minnesota.

Third Team

Ends—Dan Shannon, Notre Dame and Ron Kramer, Michigan.

Tackles—Art Walker, Michigan, and Francis Machinsky, Ohio State.

Guards—Ralph Chesnaukas, Army, and Franklin Brooks, Georgia Tech.

Center—Matt Hazeltine, California.

Backs—Leonard Dawson, Purdue; Peter Vann, Army; Len Moore, Penn State, and Bob Dav-enport, UCLA.
